By International News Service.
Washington, May 11.—With the country facing vast expenditures for its military and naval organizations, the fundamental financial structure has been established upon a firm basis that has improved with each month.

Today's monthly bulletin of the Federal Reserve system shows general business conditions are very active; the industry is expanding in every section and that money rates remain absolutely firm.

REVENUES HAVE INCREASED.

With the collection of the large war loans, approximately $3,000,000,000 in all, the revenues have increased more than $2,000,000,000 since March, 1917.

The nation's gold supply is showing a steady gain since March, 1917. The gold stock has gained $1,000,000,000.

The list of State banks and trust companies joining the Federal Reserve system is assuming an important position in the financial life of the nation.

The board of directors of the Federal Reserve banks has added to membership up to April 25. The total capital of these banks is more than $15,000,000, and the total resources aggregate $15,725,000.

Facilitate Farm Loans.
To facilitate loans to farmers and holders of agricultural securities the Federal Reserve Board has reported the completion of a survey made by a group of specialists which establishes valuable information for bankers in guiding them in loans protected by state commodities offered as collateral.

War prosperity has affected the banking of the principal neutral countries, the bulletin states. The metallic reserves in Denmark, Holland, Norway, Spain, Sweden, and Switzerland showed a gain at the end of 1917 of 145 per cent, a doubling of bank note circulation.

CHAPE AT DELAY ON MT. DESERT ROAD

Construction of New State Highway Held Up by Transfer of Crews

Bangor Me. May 11.—Those interested in the new state highway from this city to Mt. Desert Island are wondering if it will ever be completed. It is understood that the contractor, who has been on the ground with his crews, ready to push the work, has been ordered to the northwestern section of the state to build a fifteen-mile stretch of highway on the Canadian border.

There are three sections of the Mt. Desert road that must be rebuilt to conform to the standard of a modern highway—one, a mile and three-quarters long, north from the bridge at Ellsworth Falls; one, a quarter-mile at the crest of Hayes hill in the town of Indian and one of two miles beginning at the foot of Mann hill, also in Indian.

For part of this work the gravel has been piled up at the roadside for two years, and for all of it the contractor has been ready nearly that length of time, with six or seven tons of heavy tools, implements, crew and stock of grain and fodder.

It had been confidently expected that the work, which might well be done in two or three months, would be undertaken this spring, especially as this highway has been recognized as one of great military importance.

More than half were ordered by German submarines. Most of the others were taken by the government for mine sweepers. At present there are only a few private trawlers on the North Atlantic coast.

A year ago the Varrus and the post, master of which is the equal of the boats now constructing in general efficiency, were built here and are now doing a wonderful business on the Grand Banks, bringing away from 300,000 to 350,000 pounds of groundfish in a ten-day trip to the Grand Banks.

The steam trawler will make a trip to the banks, get its fish in a couple of days and return, while the average fishing schooner is getting out to the grounds.

SAVE BOAT EXPENSE. The improvement in efficiency and saving on the expense bill is the fact that the steam trawler uses no coal. While steaming at a rate of about four knots an hour the big trawler is heated by the vessel, thus saving 100 tons of coal.

The trawler is equipped with a complete wireless outfit, and can be reached by S. O. S. calls at any time with an operator always on duty. The Government trawler recently made 150,000 in savings money on one trip without catching a single fish.

There is a complete outfit on board for trying out the power of the fish, for oil, while the extra are made into fertilizer, and by a recently discovered process, even the skin will be utilized, being made into a unique and fine grade of leather.

Still another money to the opportunity for salvage money for the disabled vessels to port. The trawler is equipped with complete wireless outfit, and can be reached by S. O. S. calls at any time with an operator always on duty. The Government trawler recently made 150,000 in savings money on one trip without catching a single fish.

HOOPER LEADS A HAND. When President Taylor decided to establish the East Coast Fisheries Company in a modest way with a couple of trawlers as a starter, aid in Hoover's plan for greater production, the attention of the government officials was attracted, and a conference was arranged.

The result of this conference was the expansion of the East Coast Fisheries Company into a 110-vessel corporation, organized in Maine, and the letting of a contract to the Portland Shipbuilding Company for the construction of a dozen trawlers.

The combined catch of which will contribute to the navy upward of three million pounds of fresh cod and haddock a week.

Who Buys Ferdinand Furniture?

A letter has just come to us from a woman who lives in Bath, Maine. She thanks us for our promptness in sending her a chair which she had ordered.

She got the habit of buying Ferdinand furniture when she lived nearer Boston and refuses to break herself of it. Evidently she must be satisfied with both the furniture and the service we have given her.

There isn't a suburb of Boston that is not represented on our list of customers. As a matter of fact there are few towns in Eastern New England that are not on that list.

Our trucks are on the road all the time. During the summer months they make at least two trips a week to towns on the Cape. We do not depend on trains to deliver furniture bought here. Our own trucks do the work faster.

OFFERS BANGOR GARDENERS LOTS FOR CULTIVATION

Commerce Chamber Points Out That Plowing Costs $3 a Plot

Bangor Me. May 11.—The Commerce Chamber of Commerce of this city, through its War Garden Committee is ready to provide Bangor residents with plots to plant. The city dealer with the right kind of auction will have no excuse for failing to do his job as a gardener, according to O. H. Skinner, chairman of the garden committee.

Planting which costs 10¢ per plot under similar conditions in Massachusetts, is done for 1¢ here.

"We have people in our doubt as to the real purpose of the War Garden Committee of the Chamber of Commerce," said Chairman Skinner, "that I would proclaim from the housetops this one fact."

"The committee aims to provide Bangor people who have no land for gardens with plots that will enable them to raise food and thus help win the war."

"We have available several hundred garden plots for those who want them. They have been contributed by public spirited property owners who are anxious to help in this great movement."

"We have an expert gardener, Professor Hitchings of the agricultural department of the University of Maine, who is ready to give advice and assistance to all gardeners."

FIND TIME BOMB ON PROVIDENCE TRAIN

United States Marshals Hunt Suspect Who Disappeared Suddenly

Providence, R. I. May 11.—What United States officials declare is a time bomb, made from a three-inch shell case, was found today on a train which left Bristol for Providence at 11 o'clock.

The bomb, which contained a quantity of high explosive, was turned over to United States Marshal John J. Richards of this city. Richards immediately began a search for a man whose description had been furnished.

The bomb was discovered by Clarence Kimball, who was sitting in the smoker of the train. According to his story, he saw a man in this car get off the train at East Providence. He left on the floor a bundle wrapped in a newspaper.

Kimball said that he picked up the bundle, and finding it heavy, unwrapped the paper. Inside was the shell case, with clock-like mechanism attached to one end.

At the New Haven Station in Providence, when the train arrived, Kimball turned over the bundle to Station Master K. A. Edwards, who immediately notified Marshal Richards and the police.

Richards, accompanied by Deputy United States Marshal Edward M. Hardy, went to the station and took the bomb. The marshal disconnected the mechanism and sent the bomb back to the Federal building.

The marshal secured a description from Kimball of the man who left the train at East Providence, and left at once in an effort to locate him.

Station Master Edwards declared that the man, who was extremely dangerous, he said that he believed a sudden jaw would have exploded it. He was a number of times engaged on work in Providence, doing about 2000 persons making machinery and tools for munitions plants.
